Nobody has worn 56 for the Sox any better

White Sox announce that they will retire No. 56 this season in honor of Mark Buehrle, who played 12 seasons on the South Side. In that time, he threw a perfect game, a no-hitter and helped the Sox win the 2005 World Series.

Join us as we head to Guaranteed Rate Field on Saturday, June 24 for a 1:10 p.m. game against the Oakland A's. Everyone in attendance will receive a commemorative pin marking this historic day in Sox history. There will be a ceremony prior to the start time of the afternoon game.

According to Jerry Reinsdorf in a statement release:

"Mark Buehrle is one of the most accomplished pitchers in franchise history. Mark carried himself with class and professionalism throughout his career, his popularity with staff, teammates and fans is well deserved. Although a very humble person, he certainly showed a flair for the dramatic on the mound, from a no-hitter to an unforgettable perfect game to World Series title. It is an honor to retire Mark Buehrle's No. 56 and to welcome him into the legendary class of all-time White Sox greats."
